Srikakulam Jamdhani saree

Product description

Jamdhani Weaving of Srikakulam: Jamdhani is an 'extra-weft' technique where each individual motif is created by interlacing independent 'extra' or separate weft threads into the warp apart from the main weft. The backside of a jamdhani textile will not have any 'floating threads' between motifs. This is also a time-consuming process since each motif is created independently and individually. It takes 2-3 months to complete one saree

Product description :

The concept of durri is a little bit different from a rug or carpet because they are used for bedding or packaging, not only as a floor covering. But since the durri serve the same purpose as carpet or rugs they can be described as one. Pit looms are also used for weaving in which weaver sits in a pit and feet are used in weaving. It takes one day to complete one durri.

Cot Tape (NAWAR)

Product description

There is a long tradition in India of inter-weaving cotton webbing around a bright coloured yarn. It was introduced and tailors were trained to sew the tapes. Simple, low-cost loom, a simple technique but the overall effect is pretty and strong.
