S. No.	Name of the Product	Brief Write up / Product Description	Remarks
1	Ka Jainsem	This is a traditional attire worn by 'Khasi' community women of Meghalaya, covering the body from shoulder to the knee. It consists of two unstitched pieces (separately for face side & back side), each of two yards tied at the shoulder & hangs loose from the shoulder. Jainsem is worn by khasi women during different traditional/cultural occasion and also as formal dress. This is woven on handloom using different natural fibres like cotton, mulberry silk, eri spun silk, muga silk etc. with tribal design & colour combination.	With reference to Sl. No. 1, 3, 8, 9, 11, 13

2	Eri Silk Stole	Eri Silk Stole is woven on handloom using handspun eri spun silk & mill spun eri spun silk. This 'Ahimsa Silk' stole is worn irrespective of the seasons by both men & women globally in different ways like hanging from neck/wrapping around the neck etc. Basically it is woven accordingly with coarser handspun/mill spun eri silk yarn for winter season & fine count mill spun yarn for other seasons. Natural dyes are used to dye Mill spun/hand spun Eri silk yarn for weaving the stoles. This stole is also used to felicitate people with honour in North Eastern states during different traditional / cultural occasion. It takes 7-10 days to weave the stole.	With reference to Sl. No. 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10, 12, 14, 15
