Doria (Striped) fabrics in narrow widths used for turbans were woven in Kota in the past. Today, this activity is practiced by the weavers of the Hadoti region (Bundi, Kota, and Baran districts of Rajasthan). Kota is now famous for its "Kota Doria Saree". The Saree is produced by using cotton and mulberry raw silk yarns for base fabric with Gold and silver zari (fine metal threads) yarns in the extra warp and extra weft for designing. In this product, all-over butty design in golden zari with red border beautified by silver zari work. This Saree is woven in 49 days.
